HEAVE ME HO, SIR: A plump gentleman ate an expensive meal at the Waldorf Hotel with obvious relish, then summoned the headwaiter.

"Do you recall," he asked pleasantly, "how a year ago I ate just such a repast in your excellent hotel and then, because I could not pay for it, you had me thrown into the gutter like a veritable bum?"

"I'm very sorry," began the contrite headwaiter.

"It's quite all right," said the guest soothingly, "but I'm afraid I'll have to trouble you again."

MCCULLIN WINNER — Eugene Smitherman, right, smiles his appreciation as he accepts the McCullin Civic Award from Forrest Sapp at the CofC Banquet.

Smitherman Wins McCullin Award

Eugene Smitherman was named Cameron's Outstanding Citizen for 1964 and received the McCullin Civic Award at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night.

A crowd of over 340 persons, the largest crowd to attend a Chamber of Commerce banquet in many years, saw Smitherman receive the silver loving cup from Forrest Sapp, the 1963 recipient.

HUMOROUS SPEAKER
Mixing jokes about many Camerones in with philosophy and advice, Morris Frank, columnist for the Houston Chronicle, brought roars of laughter from the crowd. He was introduced by second vice president John Henderson Jr.

Speaking of Cameron, he said it was the greatest city in the world. "This is your home town, and a person's home town is the greatest town in the world."

He said one of Cameron's wealthiest assets was the friendly people who radiate with a sense of pride for their small city. In reaching a goal, he said it takes some much longer than others but that you can eventually make it if you put out the effort and do it in a friendly way with everyone helping.

NEW PRESIDENT

Incoming CofC president Forrest Sapp presented a president's plaque to John Schigut before accepting the duties of the top office.

Sapp said, "I thank you for your faith in me, but as a chain link, so is the chamber as strong as its weakest member. Let us all work hard to be real strong members and each do at least one good deed in the coming year to improve our city."

John Schigut introduced officers and directors and gave a resume of the activities and accomplishments of the Chamber during the past year.

Shell's Nell Ross Wildcat Reported Drilling 7,500 Ft.

The Shell Oil Company No. 1 Nell Ross, deep Smackover wildcat located in southeastern Milam County, was drilling ahead at a rapid pace, and was at 7,500 feet at last report on Tuesday.

Spudded on Wednesday, Feb. 24, the Ross made 3,300 feet of hole during its first week of drilling.

The wildcat is being drilled tight; Shell is releasing little or no information about it. The company followed this same practice when drilling its No. 1 Adoue Estate Smackover test last year. The Ross wildcat is located about one mile north east of the Adoue Estate site.

The wildcat is being watched with considerable interest by the oil fraternity. There were persistent rumors last year that Shell's No. 1 Adoue Estate had shows in the Cotton Valley when drilling at 12,500 - 13,000 feet.

Court To View Architect Work

Milam County's Commissioners Court will meet with architects Tuesday, March 16, in a second meeting to review preliminary plans for remodeling and enlarging facilities at the courthouse.

Monday the commissioners and Milam County Judge Don Humble viewed proposed architect floor plans. Architect work is being drawn up by Dawsey-Joiner-Coburn and King Architects and Engineers from Houston.

Judge Humble said counties have realized for years that something will have to be done to the courthouse. Plans presently underway have been worked on since the first of the year.

The architectural proposal includes making use of all available space now under roof and for the construction of additional space.

Preliminary plans call for 10,745 additional square feet of floor space to be constructed on the north and south sides of the courthouse. The proposed project would give a total of 25,265 square feet in the courthouse, not including the basement.

At present the basement is used for the tax collector's office, county clerk's basement and other facilities. Plans would allow the basement to be used for needed storage space. Judge Humble said at present valuable books have to be stacked on floors as the space is just not adequate to accommodate the courthouse equipment properly.

The Milam County Courthouse was constructed in 1891 and since that time many additional offices have been set up creating the over-crowded condition.

In April 1964, the District Courtroom underwent major improvements which corrected many disadvantages on the second floor.

The courtroom was enlarged when the hallway was closed and another constructed at the rear of the courtroom. Workmen also lowered the ceiling, eliminating the balcony, installed new lighting and air conditioning.

Other parts of the courthouse were freshly painted during the remodeling work. The improvement project was the second since the courthouse was constructed. However, the work did not eliminate any of the crowded conditions in other offices in the courthouse.

Contest Develops In Council Race

One contest developed in the City Council race Saturday when W. S. Turner of 907 N. Nolan filed for election just hours before the filing deadline. He was the fourth man to file for the three places up for balloting in the April 6 election.

Only two persons have filed as candidates in the Cameron School Board election for the two places open. Filing deadline was last Wednesday.

Turner is a retired school teacher who is presently doing substitute teaching at O. J. Thomas School. He is believed to be the first Negro to seek a post on the City Council in the city's history.

He will be opposing councilman Starrett Hickman for place three on the Council. Hickman, a five-year councilman, is owner and operator of Hickman Grocery and Market in Cameron.

In the April 6 balloting, a newcomer, Lawrence Zolt, is running unopposed for councilman place 4. Zolt is an Aluminum Company of America employee. The post has been held by E. L. Wied for the past five years.

The third post up for election is that held by Jimmy Marak, an employee of Lehnerts Drug. Marak is seeking his second term on the Council.

City secretary Buddy Fuller said absentee voting begins March 17 and will end April 2. Applications can be obtained by writing to the city secretary who will mail ballots to those requesting them.

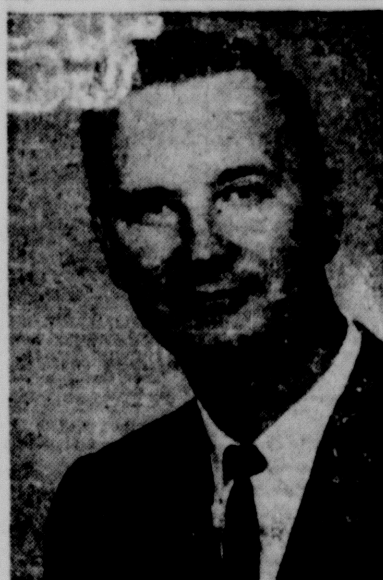

The two remaining positions on the City Council that are not up for election are those held by Lester Turner and Porter Young.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Interest in the school board race was light this year with only two men filing for the two posts up for election.

Will Vogelsang, a farmer and rancher of Rt. 2, Cameron, and Coleman Duncum, owner and operator of Duncum Implements were the only two men to file before the deadline.

Absentee voting in the school election begins March 15 through March 30. Wayne Wieser, County Clerk, will handle absentee voting at the Milam County Courthouse.

Fifty-Five Poultry Growers To Receive

Baby Chicks Friday

Fifty-five Milam County poultry growers will be presented their baby chicks for the annual poultry program at 4 p.m. Friday, March 12, on the courthouse lawn.

The Poultry Committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce has set the date for the Poultry Show and banquet for May 8, according to Leo Fuchs, chairman.

Businessmen from over the county will present 50 baby chicks to the grower. Sponsor of each contestant gives a fee of ten dollars which provides the grower with the chicks, tickets to the awards banquet for the sponsor and his contestant and the remainder goes toward the cash prizes awarded to poultry show winners.

Committee officials explained the program is designed to help 4-H Club members and FFA students from over the county participate in a broiler raising program. Broilers are raised according to specifications of these organizations and judged after an eight week growing period.

From the fifty baby chicks, the grower chooses his five best broilers and brings them to the show. The grower keeps the remainder of the flock and presents the five show chickens to his sponsor.

Monroe Fuchs will serve as chairman of the Poultry Show and Bill Arthur is chairman of the awards banquet.

Other members of the Poultry Committee are: Gus Elley, Louis Elley, Charles Brady, Allen Dodson, Charles Henson, J. D. Moore and Cornelius Tisworth.

Architect, Board

View Final Plan

For City Library

The Cameron Library Board was meeting Wednesday 3:30 p.m. with project architects to review final plans for the proposed Cameron Public Library on East Fourth St.

David Carnahan, project architect of Waco, was scheduled to discuss final details on materials and design of the proposed building. Miss Mildred Thornton, board president, reported.

Final discussion at the board meeting will set the stage for bid calls on the project, to be built with funds contributed by Cameron and former Cameron residents.

Vocational Study

General, Voluntary

The survey now being taken by a 12-member committee studying Cameron vocational needs is a voluntary needs survey. R. T. Adams, chairman of committee said today.

"If the survey shows a need, a more specific survey will be taken," he told The Herald.

No commitment on the part of any business to any program is involved in the present community survey, Adams noted. The survey is being conducted with about 150 Cameron businesses by members of the committee, which met two weeks ago to hear a Texas Education Agency advisor's explanation of the prospects of vocational training in public schools.

"It is strictly a voluntary program," Adams pointed out.

Jaycees To Elect

New Officers Tues.

April 2 - 3. Miss Howard erected an audiograph which transfers sound waves onto a graph. When she speaks into the microphone, at right, the vibrations are amplified and visible on the graph.

Cooperators Planning Spring Permanent Pasture Planting

By SCS Office
Many of the cooperators of the Central Texas and Taylor Soil Conservation Districts are making preparations for planting permanent pasture grasses this spring. Soil Conservation Service technicians report that approximately 4,000 acres were planted in Milam County last year. This set a new record for the number of acres planted to grass in any one year. Indications now point to even more acres being planted in 1965. More land was planted to coastal bermuda than any other grass. NK37 and common bermuda was second followed by weeping love grass.

The bermuda grasses were planted on land that is being established to a permanent grass for pasture or hay and the lovegrass was planted for permanent pasture and in rotation with crops.

A good seedbed is very important in the successful establishment of any grass. You can have the best seed and sprigs you can get, but if you don't have a good seedbed, you will get very little from your planting and sodding efforts. There are probably more grass planting failures due to a poor seedbed than to any other cause.

Most of the land being planted to grass is cropland which is being converted to pastureland. Some of the land has recently had the brush removed and some is open pastureland that is being re-established to grass.

Through your local Soil Conservation District, SCS personnel are available to assist in planning and establishing a pasture program. Financial assistance on establishing a permanent grass is available through the local ASCS.

Farm Record - Keeping Good Chore For Kids Advisor Says

AMARILLO - A farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service here says teenagers often make the best bookkeepers on a farm or ranch.

The specialist, James Murphrey says many farmers prefer to work on production problems rather than records, so he suggests they get their wives, teenage children or bookkeeping services to keep their farm records.

"Teenage children are often overlooked for this job," Murphrey said, "yet they can do a top job and the experience will be valuable no matter what they do as adults."

Farm and ranch children learn to handle machinery and livestock and take responsibility for important chores, but Murphrey believes few are ever given the job of keeping farm records.

He said the experience would enable teenagers to understand the economics of modern agricultural production, thus helping them decide whether they wanted to be farmers or ranchers when they are adults.

The farm management specialist believes it is almost impossible to have a successful farm or ranch without good records. He said a farmer's wife told him that her time spent on record-keeping was worth $10 per hour to their farm income. The increased income came from wiser buying and selling, tax savings and better management.

"Teenagers can do just as well," Murphrey said. "They are good at arithmetic and often learn to be better bookkeepers than their parents."

Murphrey learned to have faith in teenagers when he served as a vocational agricultural teacher.

Tomasick's Steer

Wins 2nd At Show

Frankie Tomasick, Buckholts FFA member, showed the second place Brahman-Cross steer at the Houston Livestock Show last week.

Tomasick's 345 lb., 10 month old Brahman-Herford cross was purchased from David Harris of Rogers. Harris also bred the 4th place light-weight crossbred steer.

The Buckholts youth also had the 16th place Angus Heifer which he purchased through the Central Texas Angus Association. This heifer was from the Travis LaRue Angus Ranch. Tomasick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tomasick of Buckholts.

Other Buckholts boys placing in the show were Calvin Shenkir who exhibited the 4th place red ribbon Holstein Cow and 3rd place blue ribbon Holstein Heifer. Larry Shenkir showed the 8th place blue ribbon heifer. These Holsteins were shown as 4-H Club calf scramble projects.

Members of the Buckholts FFA also competed in the Livestock and Dairy judging contest. Dairy team members were Calvin Shenkir, Frankie Tomasick, Richard Pack. Members of the Livestock team were Dennis Tomasick, Robert Lehmann, Gill Wallace and Larry Shenkir.

Lawn Disease In Milam County

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent
Dr. Wendell Horne, plant pathologist with Texas A&M Extension Service, Howard Mitchell, field representative for Olin Mathieson Chemical Company and Milam County Agent J. D. Moore visited lawns in the Rockdale area on March 4.

Many lawns in the Westwood Addition of Rockdale are showing signs of a lawn disease called Brown Patch. This is a fungus disease that often attacks St. Augustine grass. The condition is encouraged in the Rockdale area by the presence of a large number of oak leaves partially decay ing and forming a layer of organic matter about one inch in depth. Since oak leaves are tough, they decompose slowly thus serving as an ideal condition for the develop A garden tiller plow may be

Dr. Horne recommended that areas of dead grass in lawns be spaded up to a depth of 4 to 6 inches incorporating the organic matter into the soil.

Mr. Mitchell suggested that 4 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet (10 lbs. of ammonium nitrate) be applied on top of the areas to be treated before the spading takes place. The purpose for adding the nitrogen is to feed soil bacteria that speed up the decomposition of the oak leaves. inches in diameter to each 1 square used on larger areas to be treated.

MARCH AG SCHOOL

From March 15-17, managers and directors of farmer cooperatives will be in Edinburg to participate in a program which will emphasize the importance of human relations within the cooperative and with the community. President Jefferson had Congress authorize the first survey of the coasts and harbors of the U.S. in 1807.

The sun travels through space in a spiral path with other members of the Milky Way system.

After spading or tilling the dead spots of grass, apply 10 percent pellets of Terraclor at the rate of 7½ lbs. per 1000 square feet of area. Spade or incorporate the Terraclor into the top 3 or 4 inches of soil.

Re-sod the treated areas with squares of St. Augustine about 4 inches in diameter to each 1 square foot of area.

After the re-sodding is done, fertilize the areas with a balanced fertilizer and water at regular intervals.

Here's cotton growers' first step in the Chemagro Practical Cotton Program

Give your crop an early, vigorous start by protecting against early-season pests with Di-Syston—the proven systemic insecticide

Di-Syston protection is absorbed as soon as root system forms. Entire plant is protected against aphids, mites and thrips up to 8 weeks.

Di-Syston is your first insect-control step toward a high quality cotton crop. This proven systemic insecticide prevents stunted, crooked plants caused by aphid, mite and thrips damage during the early seedling stage. Cotton sets fruit and squares early to make a good bottom crop. Di-Syston is applied with seed at planting time and works from inside the plant where it is unaffected by weather. And, since Di-Syston is inside the plant, it will not harm beneficial insects... kills only the insects that suck plant juices. Start your cotton off right this season. Apply Di-Syston at planting time.

Sanders Lists Advantages Of '65 Feed Grain Program

Growers who participate in the '65 feed grain program will have definite advantages over growers who elect not to participate, according to Alva E. Sanders, office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Service.

First, he explained, the diversion payment earned for reducing the farm's 1965 acreage of corn, barley, or grain sorghum, assures the participating grower of a substantial income from the diverted acres, regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail, or crop disease.

This is also true of the price support payment which is made on the acreage planted in 1965 to one or more of the three feed grains, no matter what disposition is made of the crop, the price support payment is assured.

And, third, price support is available through loans and purchases on the participating farmer's entire 1965 production of the three feed grains.

Furthermore, if the farm operator requests it, an advance payment of one-half of the estimated diversion payment will be made at the time of signing up.

Growers take part in the feed grain program by diverting at least 20 percent of the farm's feed grain base acreage into an approved conserving use and carrying out other provisions of the program. If more than the minimum acreage is diverted a higher rate of payment will apply. Maximum diversion is 50 percent of the farm's feed grain base or 25 acres, whichever is higher.

Farmers may file applications to take part in the 1965 feed grain program at the Milam County ASCS office. The sign-up period ends March 26.

Taylor, editor and head, Dept. Agricultural Information. He reminds Texans that copies of the publications are free and are available through county Extension offices or from the Department at Texas A&M University, College Station.

Use Foil To Reflect Heat

Aluminum foil, that all-purpose "Handy Andy" of the camper, can make you an efficient camp oven. Also, it can double as a fire reflector in cold weather.

Here's how to do it: Drive four 18-inch stakes in a square around your campfire. Leave one side open to stoke the fire and handle the food. Fasten the foil to the stakes to cover the other three sides. Make a top of small, straight interwoven, green sticks and cover with foil. Secure top to the four stakes.

Foil surfaces reflect heat, creating high, even temperatures even with a small ember fire.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"KILL THE LAWYERS!"

"The first thing we do," cries Shakespearean character in "King Henry II," "let's kill all the lawyers."

That cry has echoed, not always so bloodthirstily, throughout history. One of the first measures of the French Revolution was to abolish the legal profession. The same thing happened in the Russian Revolution.

In early American days, many colonies tried to do away with the practice of law. Roscoe Pound, the eminent legal scholar, once said:

"Every Utopia has been designed to dispense with lawyers."

Yet, somehow, abolition doesn't take. In France, only a few years after being "abolished," lawyers were playing a key role in formulating the Code Napoleon -- one of the mightiest social documents of all time.

Attorney John Hazard, an expert on Soviet affairs, has thus reported that revolution's effect on the legal profession:

"When its ranks had been purged, the empty chairs filled up with new men to perform the centuries-old functions of the bar."

Why this persistence? Why is there a legal profession today in every civilized country on earth?

Consider the experience of the colonial Quakers. For 70 years after they settled in Pennsylvania, there were almost no lawyers at all in the community. William Penn's laws were supposed to be so simple that any layman could understand them.

Points in dispute would be cleared up with the help of friendly neighbors.

But if the laws were simple, life was not. Complexities arose, too numerous to be foreseen by the wisest of men. Disagreements arose, too stubborn to yield to the arbitration of amateurs. And when those disagreements touched vital issues in the affairs of mankind, the special talents of the lawyer came into demand. The man whose freedom, money, good name, or life was at stake wanted an expert to speak for him.

But besides settling -- or forestalling -- disputes, lawyers serve a loftier purpose. They symbolize, however imperfectly, the Rule of Law in society.

That quotation from Shakespeare, often used to taunt lawyers, is actually a subtle compliment. For the character who was so eager to kill lawyers was no well-meaning champion of the common man. He was a power hungry demagogue, scheming to set himself as the absolute ruler of England. Thus Shakespeare was depicting the legal profession not as a burden on society but as the first barrier on the road to dictatorship.

Mrs. Roy Emerson Howard, III

Formal Ceremony Unites Couple

Miss Elizabeth Nan Reno and Roy Emerson Howard III were married February 20 at 8 o'clock in the evening at Memorial Drive Baptist Church, Houston. The Reverend Don Berry read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick F. Reno, Houston, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emerson Howard Jr., Houston.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of ivory peau-de-soie and re-embroidered alencon lace. Her veil was a small pearl crown holding tiers of ivory illusion that draped softly over the shoulders. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Miss Kay Grabener attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Suzanne Lippman of Cameron, Miss Rebecca Harden, Cameron, and Miss Betty Reimer of Houston. Attendants were formal gowns of coral chuffon and carried cascades of Tropicana roses on a French lace fan.

Regina Stracener, cousin of the bride, and Charlene Howard, cousin of the groom, were flower girls. They wore formal ivory organza dresses and carried baskets of rose petals.

Roy Howard Jr., father of the groom, was best man. Grooms men were Dr. Charles Howard, Robert Johnson and John Williford, all of Houston. Ushers were Dale Johnson and Lee Smith of Houston.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall. Mrs. G. D. Houser, Miss Norma Smith, Miss Suzanne Robertson and Miss Sandra Webb were members of the houseparty. Mrs. Howard is the niece of Mrs. Walter Sharpe of Cameron.

How Great — Our Good Fortune

We, the people, of the Cameron Independent School District are most fortunate to have two men of such towering stature as found in Mr. Will Vogelsang and Mr. Coleman Duncum offer for service on our School Board. These men represent only the best in American manhood being citizens of good report.

The Vogelsang family are builders and the forebears of Will Vogelsang settled north of Cameron more than four score years ago settling themselves immediately to the task of helping carve an empire out of a wilderness.

In a large measure it was the Vogelsang family which built the Vogelsang community and church just to the north of Cameron.

Following in the footsteps of his forebears Will Vogelsang has devoted much of his life to serving others. A great leader in his modest way he has been active in his church, community, county and state. A deacon in his church, school board member, chairman of bond drives, Red Cross campaigns, leading in every organized effort to build here a better society than man has ever known he has served on petit juries, jury commissions and a total of thirty-eight grand juries. It is our considered judgment that few men, if any, has ever contributed so much as has this just man. In peace and in war he has stood in the front line working and fighting for that which all men cherish. He is presently a member of the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service Committee of Milam County. His integrity and character is honored by all who know him.

The Duncum family came to the Cameron area as much as three score years ago and quickly became known as one of the most honored and highly respected families of our community.

Mr. Coleman Duncum is a Cameron native where he has engaged in business and farming operations for more than twenty six years. He is a model family man, his children are college graduates with very creditable scholastic records, very active in his church, Chamber of Commerce, many other civic organizations, Red Cross campaigns, former school board member, he has responded to every call for public service and frequently at great sacrifice to his personal interest. He is a man of deep convictions who knows how to give and take, former Mayor of Cameron, having engaged in the farm implement business for many years as well as farming a large acreage for himself he is equipped by acquaintance, experience and first hand knowledge to understand and appreciate the best interests of both the city dweller and the rural people.

Coleman Duncum has always been a champion of the people, a firm believer in our democratic society, and we find his greatest boosters are the folks who do business with him. He will discharge every duty and responsibility in a most creditable manner. Prepared and presented by friends of our candidates for school trustee.

That Row Of Pictures . . .

The row of pictures lining the walls of the new Chamber conference room represents progression of this community's civic leadership since 1934.

Those pictures show some 31 Cameron Chamber presidents since it was reinstated from the old Cameron Commercial Club in 1934.

As crowds of visitors, Chamber members, officials and wives visited the new offices Tuesday, they could sense the import of this graphic show of continuity, so vital to a community.

Each year or each action is not necessarily a progressive one, but neither is survival a sometime thing. Cameron has hesitated to recognize the value of progress at times, but this small city is rousing to the necessities of the 1960's in broader acceptance than at any time in its recent history.

Most of the men pictured in the Chamber office still live here and still seek better things for this community. There is diversity in their background, but that is typical of this area and this nation, for that matter. As they revitalize that interest which caused their civic leadership, they will find that central theme of progress for this community unchanged.

Though Albert Einstein, the physicist who fathered this nuclear era, once said, "I never think of the future—it comes soon enough", neither he, nor any man of responsibility and insight, disregarded the impact of new findings.

A Musical Ear. . .

Read where a skunk has more than a stripe down his back and a "foggy bottom."

Pepper, a Massachusetts skunk, has a musical ear. And what's more he puts it to use.

Defused and amused with his role as housepet, Pepper has his owners accustomed to nightly concerts at the piano in the basement recreation room.

He walks up and down the keyboard, not once, not twice, but five times nightly, favoring, so they say, the low notes.

Pepper's virtuosity also has relegated Charlie, a mynah bird, and Cindy, a dog, to lower rating in the family's pet status. What are a mynah bird, who can only talk, and a dog, who can only bark, going to do?

About a month ago, the story goes, Pepper played his first concert, unannounced and disturbing at first to his owners.

Now about 10, midnight and three other times between 3 and 5 in the morning, Pepper walks his melodic, musical line.

He even has the Arthur Akell kids, his owners, comparing their reactions at the breakfast table. Under the circumstances, who could raise a stink?

Committee Will Hear Legion Bill

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN - If you want to sit in on the committee hearing for the bill which would legalize the sale of miniature bottles of liquor in restaurants, you better come early.

That's what Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg, sponsor of the bill in the upper house, is saying. He expects as many as 3,000 persons will be at the Capitol to testify or to listen when the bill comes up before the Senate Committee on Jurisprudence at 2 p.m., Tuesday, March 16.

Bill would allow establishments where at least half of the monthly business is for meals to get a state license for the sale of 2 oz. bottles of liquor, enough for a single cocktail.

There's organized support on both sides. The line-up:

-In favor, the Texas Restaurant Association, which hopes the bill will permit its members to meet the competition of private clubs, which increasingly are getting the restaurant business from people who like a drink before dinner.

-Opposed, church groups which generally are against any liberalization of liquor regulations and a strange bedfellow, the Texas Package Stores Association, which contends the bill as written would prevent liquor stores from continuing to sell beer.

The Texas Package Stores Association also believes the same section it opposes would prohibit restaurants from selling beer and wine if they sold miniatures.

A hearing is yet to be scheduled on the House version of the bill by Rep. Willis Whatley of Houston.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT 8 - Texas Republicans, whose lawsuit resulted in present congressional districts being invalidated, have offered their version of how the lines should be redrawn. Plan is embodied in a bill sponsored by Rep. Frank Calhoun of Midland, only Republican in the 59th Legislature.

The GOP product satisfies many objections raised to others introduced so far, since it disturbs fewer incumbents than any plan to date.

Only U.S. Reps. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and Omar Burleson of Anson would be facing each other as opponents in a newly created Congressional District 13, and U.S. Reps. John Dowdy of Athens and Lindley Beck worth of Gladewater, in a newly defined District 3.

Three new districts would be developed: Districts 23, giving Harris County a third congressman; District 17, giving Bexar County and a group of South Texas counties another representative; and District 7, giving Dallas County a second congressman. U.S. Rep. Joe Pool, who lives in District 7, but now is elected statewide, could thus retain a seat.

LAND PROGRAM RENEWAL - Voters will get another chance to say whether they want to continue the veteran land program under which thousands of Texas veterans have purchased farm property at low interest.

A proposed constitutional amendment to extend the program first amendment cleared this session was approved by the Senate and sent to the governor. Amendment will be voted on in November. Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham and Sen. Criss Cole of Houston are the sponsors.

SMALL LOAN HEARING - A housewife from Dallas told members of the House Committee on Banks and Banking that a $50 loan, which she later decided she did not need in the first place, cost her $1,500 over a three-year period by the time she went through renewals and additional loans to meet high interest rates.

She testified in a hearing on a bill by Rep. W. Reed Quilliam Jr. of Lubbock, which would reduce interest rates on loans $100 or less by one half to two thirds.

An association of small loan companies appeared to oppose the bill. A citizens committee from Dallas and ex-Attorney General Will Wilson favored it. The bill went to a subcommittee. GUADALUPE PARK ASKED - Senate adopted a resolution by Sen. W. E. Snellson of Midland urging fast action by Congress to appropriate funds for buying land to create a Guadalupe Mountain National Park.

A federal agency has recommended that the park be created, and an area man has offered to sell 72,000 acres. Area contains the only stream in Texas where mountain trout thrive and is stocked with bear, mountain lion, elk, bighorn sheep, deer, turkey and a great variety of birds.

INTEREST BILL UP AGAIN - Rep. James Nugent of Kerrville has reintroduced the amendment to the state conflict of interest statute which failed to pass during the last session.

Among the changes is addition of a section which would prohibit any member of the Legislature from introducing or causing to be introduced legislation which would directly affect any client or employer from whom the legislator receives a retainer fee or any other financial consideration during his term in the Legislature.

HORSES STALLED - Rev. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio was left at the post again in his latest try to legalize race track betting on the horses.

Berry couldn't win for losing when he argued for a constitutional amendment to permit pari-mutuel wagering in Bexar, Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Galveston, Hidalgo, Cameron, Midland and Webb Counties on a local option basis.

House Constitutional Amendments Committee tucked Berry's proposal away in sub-committee. Frank Newsom, executive secretary of Texas Racing Association, said his group preferred a bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville (scheduled for House State Affairs Committee hearing on March 29). That bill would permit pari-mutuel betting at licensed tracks in all counties, subject to local option election.

NITRATION COMPLIANCE - Texas Education Agency notified federal authorities of compliance with school integration requirements of Federal Civil Rights Act.

All but 160 of 1,350 Texas school districts also have agreed to comply, according to Dr. J. W. Edgar, state education commissioner.

Agreement is necessary to continue receiving $40,000,000 in federal school aid.

Eight Texas school segregation laws now are under court challenge, Edgar reported.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Has No Intention Of Getting Mixed Up In Big Growth Of These Cities

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper which blew against my back door and I had to pull down anyway to see out — I know where that loose board is on the step but I like to see it before I put my foot on it — seventy per cent of the U.S. population now lives in or near big cities.

As you can see, this leaves 30 per cent in small towns and the country, which is all right with me, as it's not the percentage that counts, it's the quality, and when it's not the quality, it's the distance apart, which sometimes is nearly the same thing.

But the most important thing about the article was its statement that in 40 years all these big cities will double in population.

I don't see how the cities can stand it. I never heard of solving the problem of over-crowdedness by crowding in more. What I mean is, go into any big city and try to imagine it with twice the traffic snarl it has now.

Furthermore, I saw a television report the other night showing one block in one city with 1600 people living in it. You try to picture 1600 people living on one block in Cameron and then multiply that by a few more blocks and while I don't know what you'd come up with, it's not for me. I like my fellow man, but not that many that close.

I understand that the main purpose of most big cities is to keep growing; any time a census report shows one has gained in population its newspapers come out with big headlines, but it seems to me the cities may be carrying this too far. If they all double in size in 40 years, they'll be building

OUTDOOR TIPS

New Use For Milk Cartons

To make a longlasting ice supply for the ice chest, collect empty milk cartons, fill them with water and freeze.

When they finally do thaw, you have a container of emergency drinking water.

Another twist is to freeze milk. It, too, serves as an ice supply and the contents taste refreshing after thawing. Homogenized milk loses little flavor in freezing.

highway loops half way around the country just to by-pass them, and a man in the country wanting to get to another spot in the country will have a choice of driving 200 miles to get around one or losing a week trying to go straight through.

I don't know that there's anything that can be done about this, or should, but it's a problem I intend to watch from a distance.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Questions And Answers From IRS

This is the second in a series of questions and answers on federal tax matters as provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - Which is the easiest tax form for me to use?

A - The simplest tax form is card form 1040A. However not all people can use it and it would not be to the advantage of some others to use it.

Generally speaking, form 1040A cannot be used if:

- 1 - deductions are itemized
- 2 - income is $10,000 or over
- 3 - more than $200 of income is not subject to withholding
- 4 - special tax status or tax credits are claimed

The instruction booklet accompanying Form 1040 discusses which form is best for you in some detail. The booklet is available at no charge at all Internal Revenue offices as well as in some banks and post offices.

Q - I understand that the new tax law has eliminated some low-income people from the tax rolls. Over what income level must a federal income tax now be paid?

A - Under the new law, taxpayers may now have income up to $300 before they become liable for payment of federal income taxes. However, if a taxpayer has self-employment income of $400 or more, he must also file a return and pay the self-employment tax.

If the taxpayer has income of $600 and over, he must nevertheless file a return. Also, it is necessary to file a return to obtain a refund, even if less than $600 was earned.

Q - Through part-time and summer work my son earned over $900 last year. Does he have to file a return and can I claim him as a dependent since he is a student getting most of his support from me?

A - Your son must file a return if he earned $600 or more. He may be claimed as your dependent if he is under 19 or is a student and you furnish more than half his support.

Q - Where can I find out which state and local taxes are no longer deductible on my federal tax return?

A - They are listed in the instruction booklet accompanying the 1040 tax forms. Briefly, deductions are generally not allowed for: automobile tags, drivers licenses, state and local sales taxes specifically on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous taxes. State income taxes, general sales taxes, state gasoline taxes and real estate taxes are deductible.

Q - I'm going to get some outside help for this year's tax return. How can I be sure the man I get to help me is reliable?

A - The overwhelming majority of tax advisors are competent and honest. To avoid the few who are not, here are some things to look for: avoid the advisor who "guarantees" refunds; be on guard if he suggests that the refund check be sent to his address; don't sign a blank tax form; don't sign a form prepared in pencil; the figures could easily be changed; ask the advisor to sign the return he has prepared.

Keep in mind that you, the taxpayer, are legally responsible for the contents of your tax return no matter who prepared it.

Q - We received several hundred dollars in dividends a year. I know there have been some changes in the tax law. Are these dividends still taxable?

A - Yes, dividends are still taxable. Changes have been made however that will benefit low and middle income taxpayers.

Under the new law, individuals may now receive up to $100 on dividends of a taxable domestic corporation before they become taxable. The previous limit was $50. For married couples where both have dividends, each may receive up to $100 in qualified dividends tax-free.

Q - Has there been any change in the dividend credit provision?

A - Yes, the dividend credit is reduced from 4 percent to 2 percent for 1964 and to zero for 1965. The dividend credit provision allows a taxpayer to deduct a percentage of his dividend income from his tax liability.

For 1964 taxpayers may claim a credit against their tax of 2 percent of the amount of qualifying dividends they receive over the exclusion with certain limitations.

Q - Before I retired last year, my boss told me to look into the special benefits for those over 65 in the new tax law. What are they?

A - There are several specific benefits in addition to the lower rates that will cut tax bills for all taxpayers. For the taxpayer 65 or over, the 1964 law provides:

- 1 - an extra $100 on the minimum standard deduction
- 2 - removal of the one percent floor on the deduction of medicine and drug expenses
- 3 - tax free treatment in many cases for gains from the sale of a home for $20,000 or less and reduced taxation on gains from sales over that amount.

However, it must have been the taxpayer's personal residence for at least 5 of the preceding 3 years and the special treatment is applicable only once.

4 - broadened coverage on retirement income credit

These and other benefits are explained in detail in the instruction book and at greater length in "Your Federal Income Tax."

Q - I sprained my back when I fell on the ice last year. This kept me from work about six weeks. Is the $30 a week I received in sick pay deductible?

A - If the $30 a week you received was 75 percent or less of your normal salary and you were hospitalized at least one day, you may deduct $75 a week for the first 30 days of your absence and $30 a week thereafter. If you were not hospitalized, nothing can be deducted until after a 7 day waiting period, beginning with the first day of work you missed. Then you may deduct $75 a week for the next 23 days, and the full $30 thereafter.

However, if the $30 a week you receive was more than 75 percent of your normal salary then the waiting period is 30 days, and nothing may be deducted until that period is up. This will be true whether or not you are hospitalized.

The maximum amount deductible is $100 per week.

Q - I have completed my return and have a small balance to pay. How should I make out my check or money order?

A - Make it out to the Internal Revenue Service. Never send cash through the mails, whether for payment of tax bills or anything else. If your payment is lost, a check or money order provides the records necessary to trace your payment and to establish that you did send it.

Q - I retired a year ago when I was 65 and did not work in 1964. My income last year consisted of $900 in Social Security and $300 interest income. Do I have to file a return?

A - Persons 65 and over are not required to file a return unless their gross income is $1,200 or more. Since Social Security benefits are not included in gross income, you will not be required to file a return unless your other gross income exceeded $1,200.

OFF-FLAVORED MILK

The setback calves suffer at weaning may possibly be reduced by feeding the mother cow some material which gives her milk a bad taste, says Dr. Jan. C. Bonoma, visiting professor at Texas A&M University. The famed animal scientist from the University of Pretoria, Republic of South Africa, points out that calves lose a tremendous amount of weight during the weaning period and the loss might be prevented if the calf gradually weaned itself due to its dislike for the mother's milk.

First transatlantic cable of 1853 used iron wire to conduct the electrical impulses across the ocean.

Milam County Assoc. For Retarded Children Organized

A meeting was held in Rockdale recently for the purpose of electing officers and organizing the Milam County Association of Retarded Children.

Rev. David W. Erskin was elected president; Mrs. Harold Luckey, vice president; Mrs. B. J. Chaney, secretary; Mrs. Lee Roy Carter, treasurer; executive board, Mr. John M. Weed Sr., Dr. John Armour, and Mr. Harold Luckey.

The following were appointed as an advisory board: Dr. Lawrence Seldon, Rev. David A. Erskin and Mr. H. H. Coffield for one year periods and Mrs. Louis Rini, Mrs. Nan Clayton and Mr. H. D. Maxwell for two year periods.

A very informative talk was then given by Dr. Charles Meisgeier from the Texas Association of Retarded Children in Austin. Dr. Meisgeier stated that there are over five million retarded children in the United States. This means that there are thirty retarded children per one thousand population. Of these thirty children, twenty-five are marginal independent and with help can usually lead a normal life, four are semi-dependent and one is dependent on some one to take care of him.

The purpose of this organization is to aid retarded children in Milam County and to set up a training school for these children.

Anyone who has a retarded child or knows of a retarded child is asked to please contact Rev. David W. Erskin, Rockdale, or Mr. H. D. Maxwell, County School Superintendent.

OUTDOOR TIPS

By Vern Sanford
Innertube Protects Motor
When transporting your outboard motor in the trunk of your auto, try placing it on a half-inflated innertube.
Tube reduces the bumps of the car to mere quivers. This helps prevent injury to the motor or parts from shaking loose.

Carp Love Wheaties
When fishing for carp, try using a simple bait made from Wheaties. Simply mix the cereal with enough water to knead into a ball. It will remain on a hook for long periods. Carp really go for it.

Pipe Cleaners Useful
An ordinary pipe cleaner can serve many purposes for the outdoorsman, besides cleaning his pipe.
It can be used to hold parts of a rod together when disassembled; keep line from unwinding on a reel; and as a nook and cranny oiler.

Handy Gun Oiler
Saturate a lamb's wool pad with oil and pin it to the flap of your gun case. There is will be handy at all times for oiling the gun.

Repairing Rod Guide
A hairline crack in a rod guide can wear fishing line thin in a very short time.

To fix it temporarily, wrap a section of line carefully all around the guide. Weave it around and around and lay it up smooth. Then lash it to supporting arms.

It will last for several days. Early attention may prevent loss of the lunker fish.

Storing Minnow Seines
Use old newspapers to keep your minnow seine from rotting.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK

Millions Leave Them There!

BUT, MOM! WHY DO I HAVE TO PRACTICE TODAY?

Many adults have felt that if, in the growing-up period of their lives, certain things had happened, if they had been placed under the influence of different people or in a different environment, if their parents had insisted that they attend an institution of higher learning, their lives and careers would then have been more along the lines they desire. Some wish that they had been "forced" not a pleasant word but often effective to take, for instance, violin lessons or some other training boys and girls often receive.

Parents can and should insist that their youngsters get the important basic disciplinary training they need. This is true not only as it applies to certain courses in high school, such as science and mathematics, but also to spiritual and moral training. If they are gently but firmly led to attend church with their parents, they will some day realize the worth and help it gave them and it will not be another case of "what might have been," such as the violin or vocal lessons they wish their parents had "forced" them to take.
